may be offered similar to the Bland bill of amount of coinage. This failing, the vote to be taken upon the bill as introduced, or unconditional repeal. The discussion to last two weeks, with the privilege of any member who fails to get a hearing of printing his remarks in the Record.

It will be observed that, in this proposition, the first vote to be taken will be upon free coinage, and the last upon the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause. The anti-silver men surrender their demand that the first vote be taken on unconditional repeal, and if the silver men accept the proposition they will abandon the demand that their caucus bill must be the basis of action.

The situation was greatly simplified tonight by the action of a conference held at the residence of Secretary Carlisle, at which nearly forty gentlemen, including the leaders of the anti-silverites, were present. A general discussion of the propositions submitted by the anti-silver committee was had, and it was agreed to take the affirmative on every proposition. The conference lasted nearly two hours, and at its conclusion those in attendance congratulated themselves that the action taken was the best under the circumstances. A proposition will be made to the silver men to-morrow to close the debate in ten days and then vote on the different propositions regarding free coinage, different ratios and unconditional repeal. Mr. Cockran and the other antisilver leaders expressed themselves as hopeful that this plan will be agreed to. While it cannot be positively stated, it is more than probable that the bill will be introduced in the House to-morrow, at any rate not later than Monday, after which the debate will be commenced. George F. Washburn, chairman Eastern division national committee People's party, says the Populist leaders in Washington will fight for the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold on a ratio of 16 to 1, Twenty to one, he says, would benefit the silver producers alone and not the farmer or wage earner. Hence they must part company with the eilver men who favor the increased ratio.

PROBABLY A CANARD.

England Willing to Restore Free Coinage in India if the Sherman Law Stands.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 .- A new phase of the silver question was presented to the attention of Congress to-day in the shape of an apparently authorized proposition from London bankers, backed by the English government, to leading New York financiers, in which it was asserted that if the United States would maintain the present Sherman law on the statute books, England would renew the free coinage of silver in India, at the increased ratio of 24 to 1. The most painstaking search fails to produce a single Senator who ever heard the idea suggested, and when the proposition was unfolded, it was seen that both silver and anti-silver advocates were opposed to it. "Coming, as it does, from an English source," said Senator Teller, "the President might very naturally be expected to agree to it. Anything that England wants appears to meet his approval." However, he did not credit the story, although he fully believed that the situation in England and India was desperate. Senator Stewart, another, and perhaps the most vigorous friend of silver, utterly repudiated such a compromise. He characterized it as a very adroit scheme of the gold bugs. With free coinage of silver, at 24 to 1, he continued, the English would issue their India council bills and hammer the price of silver down to that point all over the world. This was equivalent to 82 cents an ounce, and miners could not handle the ore at that price. Mr. Stewart was opposed to any such proposition, and said he would fight for the Sherman law until he got something better.

Senators Mills, Voorhees, Aldrich and Sherman discredited the story. Representative W. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, said the only place for a discussion of the question was before an international conference, and that if Great Britain wanted to have it considered she should ask for a reassembling of the Brussels conference.

GOING BACK TO GRAY GABLES. President Cleveland Will Leave Washington To-Day for His Summer Home.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-President Cleveland will leave Washington to-morrow. probably in the afternoon, for Buzzard's Bay, to remain until about Sept. 1. It is likely that he will be accompanied by Secretary Lamont, who is anxious to join his family at Sorrento, Me. Since the meeting of Congress on Monday last Mr. Cleveland has disposed of a large amount of work. and he feels that there is nothing to keep him in Washington. Congress is not expected to do anything for some time, and matters for congressional consideration can be prepared by the President at Gray Gables as well, if not better, than in Washington. Mr. Cleveland spent yesterday and to-day at his country seat, and managed to get rid of a large amount of business. He disposed of all the applications for pardon laid before him and signed his name to nundreds of certificates reappoint ing men who were appointed during the congressional recess, to the offices they are now filling. The recess appointments are the only ones the President will send to the Senate before his departure.

M'MILLIN SET ASIDE. His Place on the House Committee on Rules

Given to Mr. Outhwaite. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-The announcement by Speaker Crisp of the committee on rules, just before the adjournment of the House to-day, created considerable surprise. Up to that time not a single intimation had been made of the intention of Mr. Crisp to supplant Mr. McMillin with Mr. Outhwaite, and when the change was comprehended there was a general inquiry, "What does it mean?" "What was the occasion for it?" Many were the theories propounded as answers. No one was more surprised than Mr. McMillin himself when he learned the fact. In the confusion that prevailed at the time he did not eatch the names as they were read, and it was not until Mr. Reed walked over to his seat to ask why his name had been dropped that he knew he was no longer one of the "big To a reporter Mr. McMillin said be did not care to discuss the matter; it would not be seemly nor courteons for him to do so. The Speaker was charged with the duty of organizing the committees of the House, and he was not to be criticised for his intelligent and patriotic discharge of that duty. There was nothing personal in the action, he was sure, for there had never been the slightest friction at any of the meetings of the committee. A friend of Speaker Crisp said the reason for the change, in his opinion, lay in the suggestion that had been frequently made during the Fifty-second Congress, that there should be a Northern Democrat on the committee. That, and that alone, accounts for the change. "When the committee was formed two years ago," he continued, "the party had just passed through a fierce hight for the speakership, and it was deemed best to put a representative of each of the two factions on the committe. So Mr. Catchings was chosen from the Crisp ranks, and Mr. McMillin from those who opposed him. This year there was no fight of that kind on hand and the way was clear for adopting the suggestion regarding a Northern Democrat." Mr. Outhwaite was one of Speaker Crisp's supporters in the contest of 1891.

NO BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

The Senate and House Coth Adjourn After

Very Short Sessions. WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-Brevity was the feature of the Senate proceedings to-day. The Chaplain confined himself to the Lord's Prayer, the journal of yesterday was embraced in a couple of paragraphs, and then there were two yea and nay votes taken, one on a motion to adjourn over till Monday and one on a motion to adjourn. Both notions came from the Democratic side of the chamber, and were carried by Democratic votes and the votes of Senators from the silver-producing States. The whole session occupied less than twenty minutes. To-day was a day of waiting in the House. The Democratic silver and silver advisory committees were meeting both separately and jointly, and it was the plans of the Democrats to give them time to reach | at 75.15 cents.

SENATE FINANCE COMMITTEE,

Majority Favors Permitting National Banks to Increase Their Circulation, WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 .- When the Senate finance committee came together this morning, for the first time this session, Chairman Voorhees, who had issued the call, announced that the majority wished to discuss and agree upon a line of action, and, therefore, desired that the silver question should not be brought forward at the meeting. By next Tuesday's meeting he hoped the subject would be in order. The Republican members of the committee announced that they were ready at once to proceed to discussion and action, as the President had called attention to the need of speedy legislation. But the silver question was relegated to next week, so far as the finance committee is concerned. The committee, however, took up and discussed the proposition to allow the national banks to issue circulation to the full face value of the bonds deposited in the treasury. It was urged that the remediately beneficial than any other that had been suggested, as it would add a large sum to the money in circulation as quickly as the notes could be printed. It was made clear that for the first time in many years there is a possibility of legislation favorable to the national banks in the line indicated, for, although no vote was taken, the discussion appeared to indicate a leaning towards the measure by a majority of the committee. The present danger, however, lies in an attempt to cumber the bill with amendments that will involve the whole silver question and prevent a disposition of the measure on its own merits. Senator Gorman, chairman of the Demo-point a committee to arrange a plan of campaign for the prosecution of the work of the Senate, was closeted the entire afternoon with Senators Cockrell, Blackburn, Ransom, Vilas, Gray, White of Louisiana and Waltham. At the conclusion of the conference Senator Gorman gave out the names of these same gentlemen as the eauous committee, and the inference is that they passed the afternoon discussing questions of party policy. No cancus had been called, but this committee will report to a caucus to be held not later than Monday

RAIN NEEDED BADLY.

Condition of Corn Has Declined Six Points in a Month-Other Crops Suffering.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—The August report of the statistician of the Department of Agriculture shows that the condition of corn has declined a little over six points during the past month, the average for the entire breadth being 87, as against 93.2 for the mosth of July. This decline is due in the main to the drought, which has proved both extensive and persistent. The averages in the principal States are: Oh:o, 85; Indiana, 79; Illinois, 81; Iowa, 102; Missouri, 95; Kansas, 82; Nebraska, 84. There has been a considerable falling off in the condition of spring wheat since last month, amounting to something over ten points, the average condition the present month being 67, as against 77.4 for the month of July. The condition by States is as follows: Wiscousin, 70; Minnesota, 67; lows, 87; Nebraska, 78; South Dakota, 63; North Dakota, 66. This decline of ten points is the result of too high temperature and deficient rainfall in the spring-wheat States. The drought is prevalent over extensive areas, and has done much damage. Much minry, also, been done this crop by the chinch bug and rust in several of the States. The condition of spring rye in August is 78.5, as against 89 in the month of July. The condition of oats has fallen ten points since the July report, being 78.3, as compared with 88.8 last month, while in August, 1892, it stood at 86.2. It is the lowest condition reported in August for many years. and is due to a cold, wet spring, succeeded by continuous dry, hot weather during the latter part of June and the whole of July. The August returns for barley show a slight decline in condition from that of last month, being 84.6, against 85.8 in July, and precisely the same as it was in the month of June. The acreage of buckwheat is reported at 96,3, and the condition 88.8. The condition of potatoes has declined nearly nine points in the last month, and now stands at 86. This condition in August has only been lower twice in the last decade. The general drought has been the cause of this falling off, and rain is needed badly to prevent further disastrous The condition of the timothy crop is 89.6. as compared with 98 in 1892. The bay crop on the whole is large and has generally been secured in good condition, although in some important regions unfavorable conditions caused a reduction of the crop. The drought has done damage to peaches in the Atlantic peach belt. Complaints are frequent of premature ripening. Conditions still point to a large crop in this section, however, and local showers have benetited some localities. A further decline is noted in Michigan, where fruit has dropped severely. California has a good crop of excellent quality. An abundant crop of grapes is promised at this date. The percentage of July has been general-

Must Pay in Currency.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.-Secretary Carhale this afternoon gave a hearing to a representative delegation of whisky distillers. Among them was Mr. Beggs, of Indiana. The delegation reported its inability to obtain currency from the banks, and said that internal revenue collectors refused to accept their certified checks in payment of internal revenue taxes. Secretary Carlisle said he did not see how he could afford them any relief, as much as he would like to do so, in view of the explicit mandate of the law that internal revenue taxes must be paid in currency. Commissioner Miller was present at the conference.

CLOSE OF THE BUFFALO RACES.

Major Wonder, Nightingale and Harrietta Win the Last Day's Events.

BUFFALO, Aug. 10 .- Seventeen heats were trotted and paced over the Buffalo track this afternoon, furnishing the best racing in the nine days and successfully bringing to a close the most notable Grand Circuit meeting ever held in this city. Seventeen heats are more than a few for one short afternoon, and starter Walker had a busy time of it. Though the fields were small, there were several "bad actors" in the lot, and they delayed matters exceedingly, Flying Jib, with Geers up, was considered a good thing for the consolation, free-for-all pace, but the erratio gelding began his "monkeyshines," after winning two heats. Then Major Wonder came on and got two heats, and also added the necessary third one to the other two. In the final heat the Jib danced too long and caught the flag. The Village Farm's Nightingale was booked to win the consolation free-for-all trot, and she finally did, but it took seven beats, during which time her backers lost heart and some of them hedged. It looked as though Alvin would win the 2:12 trot, but after the Canadian "plow horse" had led the procession for two heats, in fast time, and become somewhat weary, Crit Davis gave the speedy Harrietta her head and she showed her heels to the others in the next three heats. Ten horses started in the 2:30 trot, Courier ruled strong favorite in the pools and went under the wire in a jog. Myanza, a spirited daughter of McGregor, won the money in the 2:16 dash. In the 2:18 pace the field favorite, Shawhan, driven by John Splan, was an easy winner. Polly T., played heavily for a place, got the distance flag. In the three-minute race Harrison, a 50 to 1 shot, led the procession in the three beats. The attendance was the largest of the week. Summaries:

Two-year-old pace for $50-Gilt Edge Girl first, Tenny second, Tony G. third. Raurel Boy, fourth. Time-3:08, 3:00. In the first heat of the two-year-old trot a serious accident occurred. Just as the horses turned down the back stretch the sulky drawn by Charles B. collided with that drawn by William V., who was driving the wrong way of the track warming up for the three-year-old pace. Charlie sulky was thrown over and the driver left in the dirt. The borse took fright and attempted to break through the fence. He fell on a splintered board which penetrated the flesh passing entirely through under the shoulder coming out above and making a frightful wound. The horse came near bleeding to death before the flow of blood could be stopped. He was given immediate attention and is in a fair way to recover. William's sulkey was also overturned, but driver Brown pulled in the horse before any damage was done. Ruth B, also took fright and dumped her driver. In less time than it takes to tell it three drivers were in the dust and a general runaway seemed imminent. Ruth B., soon came to a stop, and the other horses kept their places. The occurence caused a good bit of excitement, but fortunately the drivers escaped with but slight bruises.

bird shooter of Philadelphia, and Mr. Bryan Haywood, of Denver, took place at Sedam's Shooting Park, this afternoon. The match was for $100 a side, and was to have settled the long drawn out controversy of supremacy between the East and West. The first bird shot at was a duffer, and was refused by Welsh. The substitute was cleanly killed by him. Close and careful shooting followed, and at the end of the race the score stood 48 to 48. The ten birds shoot-off stood a tie. Ten more birds gave the same score, when, on account of cartridges running out, the match was called a draw. The birds were a fair average lot, and nerve and determination marked the work of both men.

ONE OF CORCORAN'S CHARITIES.

A Bit of History Connected with the Louise Home for Agea Women. Hate Field's Paper.

Several years ago a large portion of the Louise Home grounds was sold to Mr. Fairfield Carpenter, of Cazenovia, N. Y., for the sum of $90,000. The high wooden fence that had always inclosed the grounds was removed, and a good sized piece of the gar-den at the corner of Massachusetts avenue and Sixteenth street was, after a time, railed in by the new owner with a low ornamental iron fence and the space used as a playground for his children. People wondered at this very much, for, though it was known that he had only the year be-fore completed the big white marble house -now occupied by Hon. and Mrs. Michael Herbert-just beyond on Sixteenth street, it was generally understood that the place had been purchased with the view to building thereon. It was so unusual for even a wealthy man to pay $90,000 for a playground for two children, the oldest of whom had hardly passed her fifth birthday, that people speculated more and more as time went on. It now transpires that there was an interesting little story connected with the purchase of the property. After the money had been paid it was somehow discovered that in order to have a clear title in the property the signatures of the three Eustis heirs had to be secured. This was accomplished readily enough, so far as William C. Eustis and his sister, Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, were concerned, but Mr. George Eustis, affirming that, in his belief, his grandfather, the late William W. Corcoran, never having intended one rod of the Columbus (Ind.) Republican. While at the world's fair County Auditor George Pence observed in the government building, in the postoffice department, the pictures of eight of the fourth-class postoffice buildings of the United States. Strange as the story may appear six of the eight were postoffices in this county; namely, South Bethany, Taylorsville, Rugby, Clifford, Whittington and St. Louis Crossing. In all of these but the last a picture of Postmaster Hartman, of this city, appeared. The last postoffice was recognized by a picture of Frank Drake, who stood near the building when it was photographed. One of the eight fourth-class buildings was from Georgia and the other from Montana. Some two years ago Postmaster Hartman was asked by the Postoffice Department to send a drawing or photograph of the buildings in which fourth-class postolices were kept in this county. This he did, and some of these photographs were by that department sent torially says: When Dr. Sims, twelve years ago last November, was elected president of Syracuse University, there were 288 students, one building and eleven teachers. The property was estimated, net, at about $600,000, on which there was a debt of about $173,000. There was a library of 10,000 volumes. At present there are 763 stu-dents, five buildings, thirty teachers, including librarians; the value of the university property, after deducting the debt, is $1,700,000; the debt is less than $69,000. When he took charge the annual income was $16,500; it is now $70,000.

This certainly is a most creditable showing alike for the university, its friends, and the retiring president. Dr. Sims was re-SHELBYVILLE, Ind., Aug. 10 .- Shelbyville | elected almost unanimously, but he prefers has gone baseball crazy. Revolution in Cherokee Politics.

TAHLEQUAH, I. T., Aug. 10 .- The election returns from nine districts of the Cherokee Nation show a complete revolution in Cherokee polities. The Downing party, which has been in power for six years, met with disaster and defeat, and the Nationals swept the nation, carrying eight out of the nine districts, electing sixteen Senators out of eighteen, and thirtysix members of the House. The cause of the defeat of the Downing party was the belief on the part of the people that the Downing administration was responsible for not selling of 6,000,000 of Cherokee bonds. received for the sale of the Cherokee Strip.

I myself put - dellars in it and never expect to see the money again-I did not in the first place-and my case is simply one of many.
